BANKING HOUSE GIVES $30,000 FOR CITY WORK

Winnipeg Branch of Royal Bank Advances a Drawing Account.

DANIELZ AND STEPLER WENT ON MONEY QUEST

Augurs Well, Considering Money Market, Inquiries About Redcliff.

Mayor E. C. Danielz returned from Winnipeg Monday morning and announces that he secured a temporary drawing account on the Royal Bank to the amount of $30,000. Mr. Danielz had but one day in the Manitoba city, and in company with Mr. A. A. Stepler, representing the Royal Bank locally, had to make some quick moves to transact the business of his trip. The Winnipeg local man was unable to talk business, so Mr. Danielz and Mr. Stepler made a quick connection for a summer resort point fifty miles north of Winnipeg, where they put the matter flatly up to a Royal Bank official, who gave them the assurance of the stated drawing account.

In the face of the fact that Vancouver's city credit withdrawal of banking support have been made in a number of western Canadian cities, due to the money stringency, the banking accorded Redcliff's representatives speaks strikingly well for the town. Debutants of the coast cities are understood to be a drag on the financial market at the present time.

The moneys guaranteed by the Royal Bank through the office of Mr. Stepler, will be used to meet current expenses of the city's departments. Mr. Danielz says that the water tank was last reported by wire at Portia and should arrive most any day. The erection of a tank will be hastened on its arrival. It will have three-fifths of the capacity of the present storage tank in the Hat, or a total of 300,000 gallons.

Mr. Danielz says that he heard a great many inquiries in Winnipeg concerning Redcliff, there being more, in fact, than about any other city in the west. The Stornes Agency there reports a great many inquiries.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY MEET AGAIN MONDAY

Officers Elected Last Week and Modus Operandi Planned.

A representative and enthusiastic meeting of the women of Redcliff was held last Friday afternoon in the Empress Theatre.

The Women's Civic Improvement Society of Redcliff was formed with Miss Fialos, as President; Mrs. Lydiate, Vice-President; Mrs. F. Woodcock, Secretary; Mrs. J. W. Wheeler, Treasurer.

The object of the Society is to beautify the town in every way possible—planting the parks, school grounds, etc., and encouraging private enterprise in gardening and tidying. It will take a lot of work and patience before much improvement shows, but there will be great results in the end.

Every woman is urged to come and bring their ideas to the next meeting which will be held in Crow's hall on Monday July the 7th at 8 o'clock.

The interest taken by the fifty odd ladies in Redcliff in the formation of the Civic Improvement Society is only compatible with the spirit of Redcliff's progress, and shows that the women are fully equal to the occasion and are not to be distanced by the male boosters in the town. Lasting the day when Redcliff will attain that first mark of herald—the initial standard of cleanliness and beauty that will serve as a pace-maker for future residents to follow.

The next meeting of the society, as announced above, should develop even greater enthusiasm than that evinced at the last, and every woman resident of every class is urged to come out and take part.

Women's ideas are of a different sort and often more original, and therefore their ideas put into execution with the practical aid of the men should be equally if not more productive of results than an organization of men formed for the same purpose.

Co-operation is the key note of success in anything and the civic improvement movement lays open a field for the joint efforts of the men, women and children, explained by the women already legions for that purpose.

CALGARY FIRM BUILDS IN BROUGHTON PARK

Six Fine Brick Bungalows to Be Under Way in Three Weeks.

The Harrison & Ponton Co., of Calgary is preparing to erect six fine brick bungalows in block 3, in Broughton park. They will all be of the bungalow type, costing $2,500 each, or in excess of that amount, and are being built to sell. Estimates are now being made on the materials to be used in the houses. The Harrison & Ponton Co. own some of its own mills in British Columbia to which the figures for materials will be submitted and the first crop of carloads of materials directed from western mills are expected to be here in ten days.

Construction work on the bungalows will be under way not later than three weeks hence. Thirty days only will be necessary to complete them for occupancy, as the company being the largest engineering firm in Calgary, is in a position to keep work going at top speed as they keep in constant employment crews for every branch of the building and finishing trade, so that one can follow another with no cessation.

MONTH'S PERMITS, IN QUIET SEASON, NUMBER FORTY-THREE; TOTAL $90,000

Residents Are Flocking In—Thirty-Two Permits for Homes Alone—No Large Contracts Let—Eight Modern Brick Business Blocks Started—Homes Average Between $1,200 and $1,600.

Forty-three permits aggregating in value of buildings $90,000 for the month of June tell in a nutshell the activity in development of Redcliff that continues unabated through the duller portion of the most uncertain financial year since 1907. The number of permits and the structures they call for alone would explode any contentions that the activity is other than indicative of the most permanent growth. There were no large permits.

Business blocks overbalance the home investments by a margin of $10,000—$50,000 as against $40,000 but in the volume of construction the residence column takes the lead. Permits for dwellings in the month of thirty two were taken out during the month. The majority of the homes will cost between $1,200 and $1,600. Mr. Geo. A. Lydiate is building a $3,000 brick veneered house, and Mr. S. Wallace is putting up a $2,500 home of the same construction. Other than these the long list comprises entirely frame dwellings. Eight of these are being erected by the Brittain-Pleves Co. at a cost of $12,000 each, and four by M. Livingston costing $16,000 each. The largest single permit is for the $13,000 Wheeler building. The rest graduate down in value as follows: Redcliff Club building, two stories, solid brick $9,000; Oakland-Freeman, office and store, two stories, solid brick, $8,000; J. Black, two story solid brick store, $7,000; McNaughton Bros., one-story brick veneered store, $6,000; Finkelman store, one-story, brick veneered, $3,500; Alberts Ornamental Iron Co., two-story, solid brick addition, $3,000. Added to this list must be included several small permits for temporary buildings in the business district, one of these is for an $800 frame warehouse on Sixth St. to be moved to the rear of the lot and veneered in six months. The actual building figures are $89,950, or practically $90,000.

FAST AND LOOSE PLAYING FIGURE IN REDCLIFF VICTORY OVER FEWINGS

Redcliff journeyed down to Medicine Hat last night to take on the Fewings team of that city—a team that has given the local boys several games at home—and when darkness closed down on the play at the end of the evening, Redcliff had the edge on the Hat boys by five scores. The result was 6-1.

Redcliff showed a little nervousness when they entered the field, but once came quickly and at the end of the first inning the team was working like clockwork.

The only score of the game to the credit of the Fewings was tallied by the first man to face Pitcher Dixon. Wood drew a walk, got to second on a passed ball, and was brought home by a single by Dunsenberry. In the meantime Reem made a pretty easy handed catch of a drive by Church.

Redcliff's time at bat in the first inning was one two three order—a long fly to left by Reem, a strike-out by Conaghan and an infield out by Oulette. In the second Redcliff got one man, Jones, on base on a pass. He stole second, reached third on a passed ball, but died there on a strike-out.

In the Hat's turn the side went down handily for Redcliff to a double play, Dixon to Oulette to Beese. Redcliff was set down in a hurry in the third, Reem having more hard hitting luck by a long drive to the outfield being spared. The Hat was also easy picking for Pitcher Dixon in the third.

Redcliff served the score up in the fourth with a home run by Oulette. The drive looked good for about two or three bases but the right fielder was slow in covering his territory and Oulette reached home. Beese got a single and reached third on passed balls and died there.

The Fewings gave no worry in the fifth. Wood got a slow infield scratch hit. The others up followed suit easily. Redcliff had two strikeouts and made no history at the bat.

In the sixth inning three men faced Pitcher Dixon and all went out on infield plays. Both teams are playing faster and more interesting ball now. Redcliff grabbed two men in the sixth that were scarcely earned runs, being made on passes, errors and passed balls. In the seventh Redcliff did not get a hit or a score, although three men reached first.

The Fewings got men on second and third with but one down in the seventh by means of a single, pass and stolen bases, but Dixon pulled himself out of a bad hole by striking out the next batsman and catching a base-runner on an attempted steal at the home plate.

Peacock, first man up for Redcliff in the eighth, singled, Beese got on an error, Jones doubled to left, ending Peacock; Beese was caught off of first; Turcott reached first on an error by the second baseman, scoring Jones; and Dixon singled, bringing in Turcott. Dixon died on base on Beem's infield out. The Fewings got one more scratch hit in their turn, but otherwise were easy out and the game was over on account of darkness.

Both teams made several errors in the play, but darkness was responsible in part, and for Redcliff the game was the first of the season to be played on a striped diamond. Weighing the comparative merits of the two teams, the scales used by a Medicine Hat paper seem a trifle out of plumb, as Redcliff has demonstrated her superiority over the Fewings several times this season and the heavy Redcliff balance of last night's game would make it appear exceedingly strange if Redcliff had lost the game. The most departments of the game.

Dixon was steady and heady in his pitching throughout the game. The score:

REDCLIFF 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 5
Home run, Oulette; two base hits, Gilroy, Jones; stolen bases, Wood, Switzer, Clark, Turcott, Jones & Conaghan, Peacock; double play, Dixon to Oulette to Beese; bases on balls by Hartley 5, Dixon 2; strikeouts by Hartley 10, by Dixon 7.

FARRAR IN COURT FOR DISORDERLINESS

Supposed Owner of the New York Cafe Was in Evening Disturbance.

Three court cases, interlocked somewhat in their contributory details, were tried before Inspector Shubarton, R. N. W. M. P. at Redcliff Thursday and resulted in nominal fines with costs in two instances and an acquittal in the third.

Samuel Farrar occupied the centre of interest, being called upon at first to make defense on a charge of inciting a crowd to riot, the trouble being the result of an arrest, made by Constable Reynolds on Robert Donald for being drunk and generally disorderly on the street on Wednesday night last. Donald was fined three dollars and costs.

The charge against Farrar was changed to that of shouting on the street and obstructing traffic, and the trial proceeded with a deposition by Constable Reynolds. Farrar, in the meantime, had pleaded not guilty.

Reynolds stated that upon his making the arrest of Donald and later a young man named Gibson on the night of the 2nd inst. he was followed by a crowd to the police station and while turning over his charge to Chief Sullivan was jeered and threatened by the crowd, some one having called out a couple of times that they would put a brick through the window.

Constable Reynolds warned the crowd to disperse and finally they went out as far as the street, where Farrar was the center of attraction and made use, according to testimony, of defamatory remarks about British justice, and stated that no chief, constable or other official could interfere with him on the street.

Reynolds cautioned Farrar again to be quiet and in the end arrested him in front of the New York Cafe. Peter Swanson, on the witness stand, corroborated Reynolds' story almost to the letter. Witnesses for the defense in the persons of C. Smart and F. Clave gave a rather different version of the affair. Inspector Shubarton finally levied a fine of $1, and costs against the defendant and warned him that in the future he would do well to bear in mind at all times his duty to society and the fact that he alone could not continually be making trouble in the town or it would go hand with him.

Defendant Gibson was acquitted yesterday afternoon of the original charge of assaulting a police officer.

DEBENTURES MAY BE FLOATED

An official of a large bond-buying financial house of Toledo, O., Mr. Dean, is in Redcliff to-day and his visit may result in the disposal of Redcliff's debentures which are on the market at the present time. Mayor Danielz is entertaining Mr. Dean, who is going over the town carefully, inspecting the different departments from the building inspection details to the city engineer's office.

Nelson Lane, Debenture-buyer. Mr. Nelson Lane, brother of Mr. Lane of Lane, Cook & Brown, is in a dangerous condition with an attack of bronchitis.

SHORT COURSES INSTITUTED AT FARM SCHOOLS

Three New Branches to Be Opened at Vermillion, Olds and Claresholm.

TEACH DOMESTIC SCIENCE TO GIRLS

Striking Benefits of Practical Institution Beginning to Be Appreciated.

Word has been received by the Bureau to the effect that the Department of Agriculture of the Province of Alberta has established Agricultural Schools at Vermillion, Olds and Claresholm, and will open these schools for instructional purposes on November 1st, 1913.

The schools are for the purpose of assisting young men in stock judging, feeding and management. Competent men will also take up matters pertaining to soils, and the various crops that may be grown successfully in Alberta.

In addition to this, a very practical course in blacksmithing and carpentry work will be given. Everything that will be taught will have as a direct object the giving of assistance to the young men in the very practical things pertaining to an ordinary farm.

Apart from the course that is to be given along agricultural lines, there will be a Domestic Science course given for young ladies. The Domestic Science work is not designed to teach young ladies how to do fancy cooking, but the purpose is to teach them how to handle the ordinary things in the ordinary home.

As Redcliff will come under the jurisdiction of the Olds Agricultural School the dean, Mr. J. Elliot, desires to hear from any young man or lady in the vicinity who might be interested in either one of the courses mentioned above.

As these schools are to be under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture of the province, they are, of course, free, with the exception of the board and a few incidentals that may be necessary in connection with the course. The course will likely last from 5 to 6 months.

FIFTH GAS WELL DOWN 900 FEET

Drillers Expect to Complete It in Ten Days—Gas Main Fittings Here.

The new gas well, for which drilling has been in progress for several weeks, is down to a depth of 900 feet. The drillers expect to top gas shortly and predict that the well will be in the main strata which they are seeking in ten days or less. It will then be connected up with the central system as a reserve. The prime cause for the drilling of the new well was to supply fuel to the industries to locate on the industrial site on which it is situated—section 9.

Mr. Wheeler, of the Healy Co., says that the pipe fittings necessary to the installation of the gas main throughout the district to be piped, have arrived and the work is being carried on with no hindrance. The entire district laid out for the summer of 1913 will probably be covered by the time cold weather sets in.

PEACE.

"Let us hope that so long as the waters of the St. Lawrence flow we shall be at peace with each other."—Premier Borden.

"The preservation of peace is my fervent desire as it was the chief aim and object of my fathers life."—King George.

"Whatever may be the fate of the general movement among nations in favor of peace, those whose mother tongue is English will again take up arms against one another."—James J. Hill.

The foregoing epitomizes the late spoken sentiments of the ruling voices in the Kingdom and the Dominion and the attitude of the greatest transportation captain of the age toward civil and international strife. The foremost students of social and political life of the day are almost unanimous in the prediction that warfare among the Caucasian races is nearly if not already at an end.

Let us hope that it is true. For an hundred years Canada has been at peace with the United States, except for some boundary disputes that have been amicably adjusted. Then why should we father a great navy, such as our Premier, in what seems contradiction to his expressed prayers, is recommending? Why should we not clamp the lid on that adage "In time of peace prepare for war"? Why should we burden the struggles of the living under a mountain of tribute to the dogs of war? What is it all for? Who have we to fear?

Only the yellow races are a possible foe, and the hazard of a conflict with them is magnified. They are powerless to cope with the English speaking races leagued against them in enforced place. And the amalgamation of the white races in accepted peace among themselves involves but a small war protection from each against the raids across the Pacific.

Twentieth century methods of communication and transit which have leveled the barriers of hatred caused by people living within themselves with imaginary wrongs to right against their neighbors, the spreading of the English people to every corner of the globe, and the near stage of universality of the English language—this combination, wrought in a century, has brought within range that million of peace of which the dreamers have dreamed for countless ages.

The time is at hand when brother will not again take the blood of brother on opposing lines. The huge injustice and travesty of it on all principles of humanity is beginning to dawn on us. Then why in the name of sanity and common sense should we support a Dominion armament? Who should we prattle about peace and go on building Dreadnaughts and impoverishing the workers? Why, then, should we in this age prostitute the industriousness of the masses in such a monumental farce?

Tolls of past wars and cost of a state of preparation for war place the combined budget first in the column of the annual appropriations of the United States. Veterans and widows of pensioners are being supported by the government, and rightly, too. That a nation unprepared for war invites attack has not been borne out in the cases of Holland, Switzerland, and Denmark. To be sure, we can not rely too strongly on the racial fraternity of the brown men and the yellow men. But among our own blood the proposition of an International Parliament of Peace is not an experiment. It is an established fact and has a living parallel in the settlement of civil and private disputes at the hands of the judiciary.

Neither drought, famine nor flood can work the lasting damage caused by a protracted war. The United States can still feel indirect results of a great civil strife of half a century ago—one of the greatest campaigns of all arms. Over a million virile, red-blooded brothers of the North and South crossed the Great Divide—a sacrifice to a national difference of opinion. And how many widowed wives and mothers, bereft of child, died of broken hearts and the removal of the staff of support. The actual casualties, only open the book of war's far-reaching effects.

Canada has an unprotected boundary of 4,000 miles and is merely an imaginary frontier, for she can sleep undisturbed by apparitions of attack from her neighbors. The same blood flows in our veins, the same sentiments and virtues fuse, and nearly the same traditions quicken our sense of patriotism. The Balkan troubles and others that may come are only an incident to the final adjustment. America is open to all races of white stock, for they can be absorbed. Why go around with a chip on our shoulder?

HOLIDAY OBSERVANCE IN "TWIN CITIES"

Canada's National holiday of Tuesday was observed in splendid style at Medicine Hat, Redcliff evidently having appreciated the preparations made by the Hattors by sending down all who intended to celebrate in any way. The Hat had a program on Victoria Day, but Redcliff outdid her efforts and drew quite a patronage from the neighboring town. If the towns could get together and agree on a sort of reciprocal way of observing the two holidays, whereby they would combine and relieve themselves of the big expense of preparing a program for each day, complete and elaborate enough to attract large crowds the results, both financially and in the matter of variation in enjoyment for the holiday pleasure-seekers, would command such a course.

After the merchants had gone to the large expense of putting on the Victoria Day celebration in Redcliff it would have been foolish for the citizens to have attempted such a program for Dominion Day. Likewise it is hardly possible that the business men in the Hat could consistently see their way clear to stage two such programs as that of Dominion Day a month apart. The expense of getting up the fine street parade of Tuesday and the cost of the Hat's street decorations alone must have been no mean items. The parade that the Hat got up for Dominion Day was very creditable and the business men are to be commended for the way in which they mingled splendidly arrayed exhibits of manufacturers and retail goods with ludicrous spectacles to keep the crowd laughing.

Brick Go Through Fire
Before they Go to You.

They are made from clay and the clay is burned in a heat that averages 2300 degrees Fahrenheit—a heat far greater than any fire they will ever be called upon to pass through in the walls of your house.

This is what makes Brick Fire-proof.

That is what makes Brick Frost-proof.

That is what makes Brick Imperishable.

Build Your Home of Brick—IT'S ECONOMY

True economy not only takes in the first cost but the cost that is to come. Brick houses of average construction cost but a few dollars more than lumber or stucco,—say $150, on a $3,500 house. But when they are erected cost stops. There are no repairs to be feared on. There is no painting to be counted in every 3 or 4 years. There is no depreciation in price,—consequently your house will sell for what it cost you, plus the increase of the value of your lot in the meanwhile. There is a reduction in the insurance rate of 37 1/2 per cent over concrete or stucco and more than 50 per cent over lumber. There is a reduction in fuel bills because brick keeps out the frost in winter. There is comfort in summer because brick keeps out the heat. And above all you can borrow more money from your bank on a brick house ten years after it is constructed than you can on a lumber or concrete of the same value in the same period of time. When you build, build for true economy.

Mr. H. H. Pingle, brother of C. S. Pingle, the local representative at Edmonton, while in Redcliff Wednesday, gave out his plans for a drug store in one of the inside stores of the new Wheeler building, now in course of construction on Broadway and Third street, and stated that he would open just as quick as the building is in shape for occupancy, which will be not later than September. Mr. Pingle says it is his intention to carry a complete stock of stationery and drugs.

Mr. C. S. Pingle accompanied his brother to Redcliff and among other things remarked that the next session of the Provincial Legislature would convene at Edmonton some time in September.

PRAIRIE GAS

Oh, ye demon of Dull Care!
What a lurch of odd-grey dawn-of the morning-after feelings there must have been Wednesday when ninety per cent of Redcliff awoke with "and in its eyes and rain outside and to figuring that when they went to bed they must just have had themselves getting up.

Everyone was speculating about the explosion in Tuesday morning. If there was one it was either a sympathetic disturbance due to the puncturing of Medicine Hat's bubble or else it was one of Bessley's hot cakes getting swelled on itself. But if all the Chiffians slept with the clear conscience that we do they wouldn't hear such awful noises, and besides, we've got a hunch that all these fellows who got to coughing in their beds the other night must have been on about a three day's, protracted jamboree. Get on the water wagon, boys!

Later Bulletin:—We've just found out that the explosion was the first belch set charge for Dr. Kohler's colic dam. Don't transpose the position of those last two words.

Medicine Hat is right there on the boosting stuff, too. Their connoisseurs in the parable that said "Medicine Hat or Bust!" ought to say "Boost or Bust," while some of the ball players on both teams that appeared in the Hat on Dominion day night added a good-natured "Boost-it-or-bust" motto.

Broadway Store Will Be Largest in City

Barber Gives Idea of How New Addition Will Make Big City Emporium.

The new Broadway Department Store, when completed, according to Mr. Lon Barber's description, will be the largest store in Redcliff, having a floor area of 11,000 square feet. Preparations are now being made for the large connecting archways that will throw the completed building into one huge store. The addition is 100 feet in depth by a frontage of 25 feet on Broadway, and provides for improved freight facilities so as to eliminate the present disorder which is apparent in the distribution of the new stock. The new part of the building will be a sheet of plate glass in width to the vestibule door of the club entrance. Mr. Barber says that he hopes to see the old building made uniform in the exterior with the new, or something close to make the entire structure more harmonious in appearance.

See Gibson and Tupper for beds and bedding.
